Amanda Keetley, Less Plastic, 150 pages, June 5, 2019.

Introduction.

Less Plastic is an organization founded by people concerned about the permanence of plastic in our oceans. Their book, Plastic Game Changer, and the website, referenced below, address the problem and offer actions to mitigate the damage.

Amazon says:

"Our beautiful oceans are filling with plastic.

Devastating marine wildlife and disrupting fragile ecosystems; it is also threatening to be a future human health disaster. We must act now to limit the damage. The only way to stem the flow is to stop plastic pollution at source. This means saying goodbye to single-use plastic and significantly reducing all other plastic usage. But how do we wean ourselves off this material that has infiltrated every corner of our lives? Plastic Game Changer is an inspirational, practical guide for professionals who want to do something meaningful to tackle the plastic pandemic. The 5Ps framework will empower you to transform plastic usage in your organization. The real-world stories share how others have done it before. You have the power to make a game-changing difference to this vast issue, by taking responsibility for the plastic pollution created on your watch. The time to act is now!"

Our simple, visual infographics have inspired change in businesses & communities around the world. Printed copies are available to order here. For digital copies or international shipping, contact us. Also available in several languages.

We're heartened by the rise in public concern about plastic pollution globally, and we're honoured to have gained a large following on Instagram and Facebook as a result. However, the local community is very important to us too. We run monthly beach cleans in collaboration with Surfers Against Sewage, and lead #PlasticFreeKingsbridge to recognize single-use plastic reduction efforts in our hometown.

We're a small organisation with a big ambition to make single-use plastic a thing of the past. If you'd like to make a difference to the ocean plastic crisis, please share our content to inspire your friends, family and colleagues to use less plastic too. Together we can be Plastic Game Changers.
