City Parks Alliance releases "City Parks: America's New Infrastructure - Health", the second video in its five-part series highlighting the health and social benefits of urban parks. The video features tangible outcomes and examples from parks in Brooklyn, NY, Denver, CO, and Oklahoma City, OK as well as national context for the health benefits of parks. Local governments, healthcare professionals, and employers are recognizing the role parks can play in a healthy workforce, reduced healthcare costs, and a more competitive city for private investment.
